

What is ProPricer University?

ProPricer University is a self-paced, online, on-demand learning platform comprising of lesson videos, knowledge checks, and performance support tools. We are currently offering learning content for ProPricer Contractor Edition only. Still, we have plans to include other products such as Government Edition, BOE Pro, and more in the coming months.

What is the price?

ProPricer University tuition is $300 a year per person, offered at a non-transferable annual subscription. If you have questions about pricing, please reach out to your Customer Success Manager.

What forms of payment do we offer?

Accepted forms of payment for ProPricer University courses include credit card or direct (ACH) bank transfer.

Can a user cancel/Do we offer refunds?

Registration is final. We do not offer refunds or allow cancellation after registration. We can, however, cancel or disable the auto-renewal, so students do not get charged upon the renewal subscription date. In this scenario, students would still have access to ProPricer University for the remainder of the year.

How much content will be available upon release?

There are 33 modules set for initial release. Students are guided through the setup of their global data, such as libraries and rate tables, to building a proposal, running reports, what-if scenarios, and more.

How often will we release the latest content?

Updated content will be released quarterly. ProPricer University will map out courses for subsequent quarters following in-demand topics and feedback from students.

What do learners need to do to access this added content?

Accessibility is easy. Students can just log in and receive all added content once it is published.

How do customers sign up?

New students can enroll by logging into the Customer Service Portal, navigating to the ProPricer University tab, and selecting the Enroll Now option. The standard payment form allows users to register themselves or another student one at a time.

How do customers access ProPricer University?

Students will access ProPricer University through the Customer Service Portal. They will log into the Customer Service Portal, navigate to the ProPricer University tab, and select “Access ProPricer University.” ProPricer University has Single Sign-On enabled through our Learning Management System “TalentLMS.” If students are already logged in/authenticated to the Customer Service Portal, they will be automatically logged into ProPricer University once they click the “Access ProPricer University” button.
